U. F. A. WATER SPORTS AT TUDOR SUCCESSFUL

The water and field sports held at the Best Lake, at Tudor, August 6th made one of the most enjoyable combinations of outdoor events ever held in this community. Over 250 people attended during the day and another large crowd came to the open air dance held in the evening on the temporary pavilion that had been erected on the shore of the lake. The sports program began about three o'clock and from then until early dusk the field and water events were run off without a break, ending in a soft ball game between picked teams. The high and fancy diving of the many expert swimmers was the feature of the athletic contests. How so many aquatic experts could have been raised in a country as dry as ours is proving to be a wonder to many. The water of the lake was at just the right temperature and while the program was in progress many indulged themselves by refreshing exercise in the cold water. The day being very hot the bathing was especially grateful. No need to go to Palm Beach or even Deauville for the lure of bathing beauties and sun browned men in striking costumes of airy-fairy flimsiness. The dance in the evening, was a scene of real beauty. The pavilion, placed on the water's edge, was lighted by a string of over one hundred varicolored electric lights which were also strung along the lake shore, making a most beautiful effect from the reflection in the water. Messrs R. A. Brown of the Calgary Public Utilities, and Eric Rudd of Rockyford are entitled to much credit for the artistry of these lighting effects. As one gentleman expressed "It was the first really beautiful thing he had ever seen on these bald prairies." Of course, he was not thinking of, or he would have included the women who were so busy serving refreshments in the lunch booths. A debt of gratitude is due all of them by the hungry for the excellent service they gave the unexpectedly large, hungry, and thirsty crowd. The music, furnished by McLean's orchestra added the final touch to one of the most enjoyable dances with which this community has ever been favored.

The finest thing about the whole affair was the spirit of co-operation that permeated the work of preparing and managing the event. Our good neighbors from Rockyford helped with as much enthusiasm as if it had been their own. a fact which the Tudor folks fully appreciate, and which added much to the success and smooth working of the arrangements.

The program was smoothly carried out by the following officials for the day. Bill Rudd, Announcer; Ralph Knight. Starter, Eric Rudd, Buzzy Katterhagen and George Thorburn, Judges; F. R. Schafer, in charge of the field sports.

Perhaps one may be pardoned for mentioning one individual among so many who worked like Trojans to make the affair a success, if the name of Mr Bert Horton, of Tudor, were suggested. It was the great day for Tudor and the U F A and U F W A of Tudor, extend their most hearty thanks to all those who so generously gave of their time and effort in making the day a pleasant one for the fine crowd that attended.

A short speech by Mr E W. Fust of Rockyford, in appreciation of the part played by Mr Best, at whose place the sports were held, was cheered to the echo by those present, near the end of a perfect day.

Constable Wallace was among those officers who were called to Mercoal Mining Camp near Edson. About 75 A.P.P. men and forty specials were mobilized at Edmonton and left by special cars. The trouble at Mercoal was caused by the rivalry between the miners who are members of the U M W A with whom the operators have an agreement and the members of the Canadian mine workers union, the latter having many communist members. Some of the latter had beaten up some of the members of the U M W A and also had assulted a couple of Provincial police. They had established a picket and refused to allow the other members to work. The police took four of the leaders back to Edmonton and left sufficient number to enforce order.

Momentous Conference Regarding Financing 1930 Grain Crop

Winnipeg, August 11th. One of the most momentous conferences of the year, especially watched by 10,000 agriculturists of the prairie West, members of the wheat pools, is under way at Winnipeg.

Financing of the 1930 grain crop is the subject under discusion in the board room of the Canadian Co-operative Wheat Producers Limited, the central selling agency of the three prairie wheat pools—Manitoba. Saskatchewan and Alberta. With A. J. McPhail, president, presiding, the meeting opened Wednesday morning and continued throughout the afternoon. It will probably conclude this evening, but until then no statement will be issued as to the progress made.

H. W. Wood Attends

In attendance are H. W. Wood of Calgary, president of the Alberta Pool, as well as representatives of the Manitoba and Saskatchewan organizations. Before the sessions end, representatives of the banks which finance the co-operative organizations, will meet the Pool authorities.

Not only is the conference of paramount interest to the farmers, but also to the business men of the Dominion, especially of the prairies. The initial payment will mean putting many millions of dollars into business channels.

Reports from the East that the first payment of the 1930 crop would be at the rate of 60 to 70 bushel could not be confirmed here. The subject was discussed in Ottawa and Toronto, by Mr McPhail, the premiers of the prairie provinces, representatives and Hon. R. B. Bennett, Prime Minister

No Crisis Seen

Returning from the East Wednesday, accompanied by Hon. J. E. Brownlee, head of the Alberta Government, Premier Bracken in an interview, declared there was no crisis to warrant the Government of the West guaranteeing the 1930 crop as had been the case in handling the 1929 yield.

Unless an emergency developed that did not look for one, the financing would be carried along the usual channels between the banks and the pool. Satisfactory arrangements had been made for loaning on the balance of the 1929 crop guarantee while in Ottawa, he said.

Mr Bracken intimated that the pool officials were attempting to secure a higher initial payment than the banks desired. The pools in the interest of their members, wanted as high an initial payment as possible, commensurate with safety.

Increase Benefits

While declining to state the amount discussed, the Premier declared that, if the initial payment could be increased 10 cents a bushel it would probably result in an additional $15,000,000 being circulated in the Western provinces. This would mean increased trade and would aid in solving, to some extent, the unemployment problems of the prairies.

Last year's initial payment was $1 per bushel, as were all previous to 1928, when it was 85c, but no added payments have been made as yet on the 1929 crop. Interim payments on the 1928 crop brought the total to $1.18½.

Provincial Government Eighth Crop Report

As harvest approaches the condition of crops throughout the Province is better than was anticipated earlier in the season, with the exception of the south-eastern part of the Province and central eastern areas crops are good. In the eastern area where conditions were unfavorable throughout the early part of the growing period late rain have caused excellent growth of oats and barley, and if the frost free period is prolonged, there will be fair yields of wheat.

The hot dry weather of the first night has caused too rapid ripening of crops in the south-eastern part of the Province, where moisture was not plentiful. In the central and northern area where heavy rains fell during July and where crops were maturing slowly, these high temperatures have caused more rapid ripenig without serious injury to quality.

Wheat cutting has commenced in the south and will be general next week. Throughout the central and northern parts cutting will be general in from ten to fourteen days.

Frost has been reported from one point in the Peace River district, but damage seems to have been very slight. Hail damage has occurred at several points throughout the Province.

Conditions with regard to pasture, hay and feed are fairly satisfactory. In the alfalfa growing areas, the second growth of alfalfa is fairly heavy and of excellent quality. The Sugar Beet crop is better than the average.

NAMAKA

A farewell party for Mr and Mrs Behan and family was held in the I O O F Hall on Friday. Cards and dancing were the order of the evening. Mr Bremner's Orchestra supplied the music assisted by Miss Grace Scheer. Mrs Behan was presented with a half dozen Silver Tea Spoons from the Rebekah Order, Miss Scheer, N. G. making the presentation to which Mrs Behan replied in the usual manner. Mr Wabster then presented Mr and Mrs Behan with a Silver Cake Plate on behalf of the community. Mr Behan responded suitably. The community regret to lose the Behan family as they were always willing to help in community affairs and are members of the Tennis Club. and while we regret their departure we know all of Mr Behan's promotion with the Pool.

Mrs E. Habgood left on Saturday for Moaley where she will reside with her daughter Mrs Nichol.

Last Saturday Mrs Waters entertained the C G I T Group in honor of Miss Frances Behan who is leaving Namaka shortly. Games and contests followed by a singsong, filled a pleasant afternoon. In the clay moulding contest, the guest of honor won the prize for her model of a cat stalking a mouse, while in the rhyme contest Miss Isabelle Thompson took the prize for the following verse which echoes the sentiments of all the girls.

Frances is a snappy lass,
We'll miss her when she's gone,
Hope she won't forget the class,
Nor stay away too long.

Many of the girls will be going off to Calgary to school this fall. but Frances is the only one who has expressed a desire to leave Namaka and will certainly be missed in the C G I T of which she was a member for nearly four years.

Mrs Aitkens and family visited Leonard on Sunday at the General Hospital. Leonard's condition is improving and we hope to see him home soon.

Miss Marie Buker is the guest of Miss Verna Morrow over the week end.

Mr and Mrs Peterson accompanied by George are spending their vacation at Banff.

On Wednesday afternoon Mrs Colpoys entertained at two tables of bridge, complimenting Mrs J. B. King of Calgary, who is the guest of her sister Mrs William Eby. Mrs Thorssan won the prize for highest score, and Miss Margaret Reiman of Calgary was awarded the consolation. After partaking of delicious refreshments the guests disposed in merry mood.

WESTERN PROVINCES SUFFERED NO LOSS

Toronto. A special despatch to the Mail and Empire from Ottawa says:

"From no less a person than the chief statistician of the Canadian Wheat Pool's selling headquarters in Winnipeg, government authorities in Ottawa have received the cheering information that the prairie provinces have incurred no loss from their guarantees of the Wheat Pool's operations.

"Early in the year, when it became apparent that Canada was not going to be able to market the whole crop, and that the market price had suffered a severe slump, the three prairie governments put their credit behind the wheat pool to the extent of guaranteeing the banks against loss through the advances made to the pool.

"According to information supplied to the Dominion government there has been no loss. The pool's crop year ended July 15. Everything transacted from July 16 onward is part of the 1930 pool. Compilation of the final returns of the 1929 pool is under way and has progressed far enough to reveal that the pool sold enough wheat above the dollar price to at least compensate for the quantity which had to be sold below that mark—leaving the provincial guarantees uncalled.

"Andrew Cairns, statistician for the pool, was in Ottawa securing passports and making preparations to inform the government of the situation in regard to the guarantees, which, he said, would now expire."

Wednesday a special report issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, Ottawa, showed the total stock of wheat remaining in Canada on July 31 was 111,692,519 bushels as compared with 194,383,231 at the end of July 1929. What percentage of this is held by the pools unsold, could not be ascertained here. Pool officials refused to comment, and Premier Bracken said: "I know, but I can't say, except that the amount should not cause any anxiety in view of the amounts carried over in former years."

CHICAGO GIANT SEEKS WORLD'S TITLE

—o—

In reference to the 1932 Olympiad, the Buffalo Evening News has the following to say:

They've found a young Chicago giant who promises to equal, or perhaps better, the feats of Johnny Weissmuller. His name is Casimir Churto, but they call him Moose, because he stands 6 feet 4, and weighs 200 pounds. He wears a size 11 double E shoe. Johnny Weissmuller's hands and feet are like ladies fingers and toes in comparison. And he's only 16. There isn't an ounce of fat on his huge frame though he's as big as Carnera. He has been clocked repeatedly in the century in :55 and 2.26 for the 220, and 6.10 for 500 yards. "With two years to develop and under proper coaching, Churto should rank as one of the great swimmers in the Olympics at Los Angeles," says Walter Laufer, who won the national indoor all-round title. "Moose looks to be the best youngster, since Weissmuller," says Stanley Brauningeer, Lake Shore swimming coach. "Weissmuller didn't break records until he was 17 or 18, and I'm sure Churto will start cracking marks with the same regularity when he is that age."

WILLIAMS MAKES WORLD RECORD

—o—

Varsity Stadium, Toronto, Aug. 11th. World's records crumbled beneath the flying feet of Percy Williams Saturday. The slim modest young champion from Vancouver, B. C., raced the 100 metres in 10 9-10 seconds, one-tenth of a second faster than the recognized world record set by famous Charley Paddock in 1921, and equalled by Eddie Tolan of Michigan on Dominion Day at Vancouver.

The time was thoroughly official and the track was re-measured after the record time had been hung up. There was a varible cross wind and the track was sheltered by a grandstand. The track was the regulation outdoor sprint track and was a little slower than it might have been, on account of heavy rains the day before.

In view of all these circumstances, the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada is appplying to the International Federation for world recognition of William's time.

GOLF AT NIGHT

Baseball and horse racing at night having been proven successful, golf is the latest sport to be staged under artificial light. Kansas City is opening a nine-hole illuminated course this week. Fairways and greens are well lighted but no provision is made for the chap who hooks his drive into the bush. Another drawback is that the greens frequently become heavy with dew.

ALBERTA BOYS AT TORONTO

—o—

Toronto, Aug. 11th. On Saturday Doral Pilling of Cardston won the Javelin contest, making 196 feet 7½ inches and George W. Suther land of Calgary was third in the Hop, Step and Jump, and third in throwing discus.

—o—

The conference was over and ladies were returning from seeing the visitors off.

"Whom did you have Mrs Smith asked one hostess.

"Oh, quite a nice clergyman. Whom did you have "

"I had two locust preachers," replied the other.

"You mean local preachers. Locust are those things that come in swarms and eat everything up."

"That's right," said her friend. "I had two of them."

STRIBLING'S SENSATIONAL ADVANCE

—o—

The secret of Stribling's sensational rise, when he seemed destined to be nothing more than a crossroads champion, is out. Billy the Kid has developed a crushing left. When he was the tanktown king he slayed the pushovers with a right hand. That made him "right-hand crazy," as the boys say. He forgot all about his left in fact, he never developed it. Finally, he decided he would have one if he wanted to get anywhere. So he started to develop his southpaw. But development was slow. It did not seem as though he would ever learn how to use it. But now he has, according to Reckless Ray Alvis, who is a close friend of Strib's. It was a left that knocked out Von Porat and it was another left to the body that finished Phil Scott. So there's the story of Stribling's success.

Another explanation of Stribling's sudden development into a knockout fighter was given by his father to George Barton, Minneapolis sports editor, who refereed polis sports editor. According to Stribling Senior, he brought his boy along as a defensive fighter until he had gained the right experience against the older fighters in the heavyweight ranks. Although he has been fighting many years, he is now only 26 years old, and the Von Porat fight was the first one in which Young Stribling was permitted to shoot the works.

TY COBB MAY MANAGE CLUB

—o—

Atlanta With the major league baseball races entering the home stretch, Ty Cobb, a dominant figure in the game for more than 20 years, is resting quietly at his home in Augusta, Ga, satisfied with the part he has played and not overly anxious to get back.

"I'm enjoying a well-earned rest and I like it," the base stealer and batsman of former years said on a short visit with his mother here. "Maybe sometime the desire to re enter the game will become strong again. Then I'll look around. When a good proposition comes perhaps I'll be ready to accept it, but I won't play any more.

"You'll never hear of Ty Cobb again as a player," he said. But added, "I still can play, but I always said I'd quit while I was at the top and I'm not going back on that promise."

Golf affords Cobb his chief recreation now. He generally scores in the late 80's. Occasionally he attends South Atlantic League games in Augusta.

Cobb thinks interest in baseball is on the decline, "People are not following the teams. Back in the old days a sixth-place club could pack the stands in late August," he said, "It's not the game it was 10 years ago. They are missing the finer points. The big punch is all that counts nowadays."

Cobb thinks the Athletics are a cinch to win the American pennant and believes the Cubs will repeat in the National. "With all due respect to Robinson I don't believe his Robins will beat out McCarthy's team. Watch the Cubs jump forward within the next 30 days."

Cobb is waiting for the readjustment he believes must come in baseball before he does any buying. "The franchise prices for most clubs are too high. I don't think it's a good business investment to purchase a club now," he said.

"Night baseball It's still a novelty but may live in the minor leagues. I don't look for the majors to adopt it. From a business angle it is probably a life-saver to the small clubs, but it takes away from the playing end. Players can't see well enough to make plays which they would execute in the daytime."

Exponents of the Royal and Ancient Game went down to defeat on the Banff Springs Hotel golf course recently when Indian Archery experts played in a nine-hole tournament between two Indian chiefs, Lone Walker and Lone Eagle, and William Thompson, professional at the course, and his daughter, Peggy Dykbesh, former Alberta lady golf champion. The Indians shot their arrows from the tees while the golfers played in orthodox fashion. The archers "holed in" a four-inch disc standing on end on the cup. Up to the ninth hole the game was tied, but the Indians won on the latter with one stroke.

The Plumbers Opera, another author presented at Banff Springs Hotel by the Alfred Hastier Light Opera Company, of Ltd is running a summer season at the well-known Rockies resort, proved an unqualified success, while Tom Tug, the Young Waterman, which followed it, was an even greater hit. The season will run during July and August and a number of 18th century operas with Gilbert and Sullivan and Canadian works will be given.

THE NEW FEDERAL MINISTRY AT OTTAWA

The Bennett Government has been duly installed in office and the various departments allocated as follows:

Hon. Richard Bedford Bennett K. C.,—Prime Minister, President of the Privy Council, Secretary of State for External Affairs, and Minister of Finance.

Hon. Sir George Halsey Perley, K. C. M. G.— Minister without Portfolio.

Hon. Gideon Decker Robertson, (Senator) Minister of Labor

Hon. Hugh Guthrie, K. C. Minister of Justice and Attorney General.

Hon. Edgar Nelson Rhodes, K.C. Minister of Fisheries.

Hon. Henry Herbert Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce.

Hon. Robert James Manion, M. C., Minister of Railways and Canals.

Hon. Edmond Baird Ryckman, K. C., Minister of National Revenue.

Hon. John Alexander Macdonald, Minister without Portfolio.

Hon. Arthur Sauve, Postmaster General.

Colonel the Hon. Murray MacLaren, C. M. G., C. M. G., M. C. M. & C. S. Minister of Pensions and National Health.

Hon. Hugh Alexander Stewart, K. C., Minister of Public Works.

Hon. Charles Hazlitt Cahan, K. C., Secretary of State.

Lieut-Col. the Hon. Donald Matheson Sutherland, M. B., D.S.O.—Minister of National Defense.

Hon. Alfred Duranleau, K.C., Minister of Marine.

Hon Thomas Gerow Murphy, Minister of Interior and Superintendent - General of Indian Affairs.

Hon. Maurice Dupre. K.C., Solicitor-General.

Hon. Wesley Ashton Gordon, K. C., Minister of Immigration and Colonization and Minister of Mines

Major the Hon. Robert Weir, Minister of Agriculture.

One name missing is that of General McRae who was in no small measure mainly instrumental in Mr Bennett's success, through his wonderful gift of organization.

General McRae suffered defeat at Vancouver, but no doubt a riding could easily have been obtained for him as was done for the Hon. Mr Stevens, but he will probably be found at either Washington or at London should the appointment of Mr Massey be not confirmed by the new Government or should Mr Massey decide to resign.

Speaking of the new Ministry the Toronto Globe (Liberal) says.:

At this stage it would be manifestly unfair to critize as it would be unreasonable to praise. Mr Bennett's choice of men to carry on his Majesty's Government in Canada under his leadership. The making of a cabinet unfortunately, is usually a matter of satisfying the demands of various communities, as well as fitting competent men to the respective portfolios. Undoubtedly Mr Bennett has sought to meet these exigencies to the best of his ability. He did not have a large amout of seasoned and proved timber at hand, and in some cases did not choose to use what was available of this kind. As a result he has a ministry composed partly of members with records and partly of those whose Parliamentary capacity is wholly untried or who had very brief experience in the Meighan Cabinet. The difficulties he encountered are shown in the necessity of calling upon Hon H. H. Stevens to find a seat and become Minister of Trade and Commerce, in going to the Senate for a Labor Minister, in summoning the Premier of Nova Scotia to his assistance, and in failing to fid a Minister of Finance. It might be reasoned that these shift's indicated a keen desire to provide a strong Ministry. This is probably so, but it shows, nevertheless, that material was not plentiful enough to make rejections more difficult than selections. While some of the appointees have had limited Parliamentary experience, and a few of them none, it can be said for most of them that they have excellent reputations in their business or professional careers, and should provide reasonably sound judgement for the affairs of government. At the same time it will be surprising if the constitution of the Cabinet proves to be such that unanimity of opinion will always prevail on some of the larger matters with which it will have to deal. It is almost a foregone conclusion that there will be dissension on the question of imperial relations. which is certain to demand serious attention.

But Mr Bennett's Ministry will be judged by its acts rather than by the predilections of some of its members. Responsibility to the country will be that of the collective group, and it will be entitled to every chance to prove itself worthy of the confidence accorded the party platform.

The new Government is assuming office under circumstances both favorable and unfavorable. The King Government has left a clean house. It established a financial record which no previous Government has surpassed, or perhaps equalled. It has handed affairs over in sound condition, free of any taint of scandal or misuse of office. It has established a remarkably favorable position in foreign trade. Mr Bennett will not have things to undo.

THE CAUSE OF OUR ECONOMIC TROUBLES

The elections are now a matter of history hence the following article from one of our exchanges, may be read without the construction being placed upon it, that it has any political association.

Anything and everything that will have even the slightest effect in removing causes of friction between nations on the one hand, or of promoting goodwill on the other hand, should to an ever increasing degree receive the support of every government. every organization, very individual. There is danger as we get farther and farther away from the agony of the war years, 1914-1918, and as the horrors of that grim struggle begin to fade and become indistinct in our memories, to forget just how awful war really is.

It is well, therefore. to be occasionally reminded of what the Great War continues to mean to us today. twelve years after it passed into history. Hon Philip Snowden, British chancellor of the Exchequer, whose outstanding characteristics in all his public speeches is his clear incisiveness' unswayed by hysteria or undue sentiment, gave a radio talk recently in which he pleaded for world peace. and for the putting forth of every effort to attain that object.

Despite Mr Snowden's well-known pacific tendencies, he dealt only with the mere dollars and cents aspect of the war as an agent of destruction. Taking the case of Great Britain, he pointed out that it had spent some 50,000 million dollars on it's part in the Great War. This was apart from the loss of the wealth producing capacity millions of men drawn for four years from usefull employment, and of course took no cognizance of the loss of life.

The war, as Mr Snowden pointed out left Great Britain with a debt of over thirty-five billions of dollars. the interest on which alone costs one and three-quarter billions a year. It all has to come out of taxation.

At the present rate of payment Mr Snowden added it will take 140 years to wipe it out. Today the British people are raising $5,000,000 every day, $200,000 every hour, $3,000 every minute for debt purposes. It takes the whole-time labor of 2,000,000 workers year in and year out to pay the annual cost of the nation's burden of debt. To this must be added $575,000,000 which Britain annually spends on war services, and $280,000,000 it pays yearly for war pensions, which gives a total of $2,400,000,000—$5,000 a minute,—which Great Britain has to provide for war purposes.

Such stupendous figures throw Mr Snowden's main point into bold relief. "It passes the power of the most imaginative mind," he said. "to conceive what prosperity and happiness could be added to the world if the resources wasted by war could have been used for the advancement of human wealth! Has even the least imaginative mind may realize from the figures that now is the time for all good men and women the world over to ponder the folly of preparing for another war.

The great economic ills from which the world is suffering today —and from which Canada unfortunately is not free,—could be over come if the huge amounts raised by taxation to pay war debts could be diverted into constructive channels, not to mention what might have been done had the enormous principal sum expended during the war itself been devoted to improving world conditions in all countries.

If the money spent waging war, by Britain alone, instead, been devoted to great constructive national programmes, there would have been no unemployment in Britain. Everybody would have been busy during the past twelve years, and everybody would be hard at work now. The whole standard of living in Britain would have been raised, housing and all social conditions would be on a higher plane than ever in the world's history.

And what would have been true of Great Britain would be equally true of all countries, Canada included. It is easy to thoughtlessly lay the blame for unemployment, depressed business conditions, falling markets, and sundry other ills to this cause and that cause. and to lay the blame here or there, but the basic cause is the war, and the huge burden it has imposed on all peoples and on every constructive, progressive movement that the peoples of the world, in their several countries, are anxious to carry on.

Campaigning for world peace is not a fad, nor the mere business of the idealist. It is the hardest headed business proposition confronting the world today. In its success is bound up the future welfare of every worker, every man and woman, the future of their children and children's children,—indeed their very lives Only through the achievement and maintenance of world peace can the present economic ills of the world be remedied.

Tony Grogan tells a story about a newspaper offering $1.00 each of "embarrassing moment" letters, received the following epistle:

"I work on an early night shift in a coal mine. I got home an hour early last night and there I found Smithy talking to my wife. I was very much embarrassed. Please send me $2.00 as my wife was also embarrassed." The editor, so Tony says sent a cheque for $3.00 admitting the possibility that Smithy too, might have been embarrassed.

OYEN FAIR

Oyen's sixteenth annual fair and Stampede went "over the top" in great style last Friday, New records being established in attendance and number of entries. Fine weather favored the huge crowd till supper time. when a sharp shower drove some of the spectators to cover, but clearing quickly the weather remained fine till the last stampede event was run off Late in the evening rain again commenced to fall and continued over night for a precipitation of .22 in.

The Stampede events proved very popular and the huge crowd was able to get a splendid view from all sides of the enclosure.

Many of the riders in the bucking contest gave excellent exhibitions and although some bit the dust it was not until they had demonstrated their mettle before being thrown. The horses invariably proved very wicked actors.

The wild steer riding and other events all provided thrills. Mrs M Gibson, of Havre Mont. gave an exhibition of fancy and trick riding and also rode one of the bucking horses.

The following is a list of the winners in the stampede events;

WHOOPING COUGH

There are a few cases of Whooping Cough in the town and surrounding country. It is often a week or ten days from the time the child begins to cough before a whoop or vomiting occurs, but during the first stage it is very contagious.

Any child who is coughing should be kept at home, away from other children, long enough to determine whether it is Whooping Cough or not.

I recommend vaccination to prevent Whooping Cough, also to lessen the severity and duration of its course.
